Treatment of a Adherent Scar (Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir)

Etiology

- 57-year-old patient

- Adherent scar over the flexor tendon of the hand after paravasal injection of cytostatics
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
Pre-Operative

Adherent scar over the flexor tendon of the hand

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
Intra-Operative

Implantation of wet 1mm MatriDerm®

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
1 Year Follow-Up

Dorsal extension possible

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
1 Year Follow-Up

Palmar flexion

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
1 Year Follow-Up

Full fist closure

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
1 Year Follow-Up

Radial abduction

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
1 Year Follow-Up

Ulnar abduction

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential
Treatment of a Adherent Scar
1 Year Follow-Up

Full extension

Keck et al. 2008, Handchir Mikrochir Plast Chir
© MedSkin Solutions Dr. Suwelack | Confidential